New York, July 9.—"I have always believed in publicity with respect to campaign expenditures," said George R. Sheldon, the new treasurer of the Republican committee, today. He added: "In the approaching campaign I will be guided solely by the publicity law."

TO BE FOUGHT IN COURTS Condemnation Proceedings to Be In- been granted plaintiff in the case of I David H. Crook vs. Etta Crook on the stituted Against Rocky

Ford Reservoir. (Special to The Herald.) Richfield. July 9.—Attorney General Breeden has been in Richfield the past few days looking into the matter of the condition of the Rocky Ford reservoir and with papers all prepared to begin suit to have the reservoir put out of existence as a menace to public health. For the past that the reservoir was not the cause of so much sickness that prevails during the summer months. Failing to get relief from that source, the state board of health was appealed to, and Dr. Beatty dispatched an assistant to the site of the reservoir to investigate. He returned pronouncing against the reservoir and said that with A curious court story went the rounds some little time agc about a lovely foreigner, one of whose verbal slips gave King Edward occasion for a hearty laugn. A very little personage with a delightful accent, she made such a favorable impression upon the king that he asked her to be his partner at bridge. "But sliv about 15 cm." about 15 cm. and 15 cm. the storing of the waters in the reservoir large quantities of decaying animal and sion upon the king that he asked her to be his partner at bridge. "But, sir," she said. "I really don't know how to play." The king would take no denial, however, and she became rather embarrassed. "I assure you, sir," she said, "I could not think of playing. I don't know the difference between a king and a knave." There was an awyward silence, and then she realized what she had said and was vegetable matter were deposited, and as the waters were drawn off during the irrigation season this decaying matter was exposed to the sun and foul effluvia was given off into the atmosphere, and that disease was sure to result to the people disease was sure to result to the people of that village.

However, there is another side to the case. The people who built the reservoir say that the same conditions prevailed at Sigurd before the reservoir was in existence and they point to the fact that the river at that point has eaten a channel nearly a mile wide, which stretches almost across the valley near Sigurd and Vermillion. That the high waters in the fore part of the season overflowed this large area and when the water receded the hollows and places scooped out by eddles were left filled with water, and during the summer months they become during the summer months they become stagnant and were a worse menace to the health of the people than the reservoir.

The case will be entitled the board of health of the state of Utah, ex rel. vertexperiors. sus the Rocky Ford Irrigation company. In the complaint as now made out, after reciting the allegations of decaying matter being deposited under the back-up waters of the reservoir, and that the lowwaters of the reservoir, and that the low-ering of the waters exposes this to the sun and disease results from the impreg-nated atmosphere, the plaintiff asks for an order of the court restraining the de-fendant company from drawing off any of the water from the reservoir or lower-ing it in any way until a final hearing of the case is had and a decision rendered in the case.

Should such an order be made it will mean the finish of a great number of farmers of Salina, Redmond, Aurora and Vermilion. There are thousands of acres of land with bountiful crops on with great promise for this season which will be a wilderness of waste and destruction. The farms of this part of the valley will be ruined and all the work of years thrown away. It has cost a great lot of wealth to make these farms and by irrigation methods to wash the soil clean of minerals and turning them into useful farms. It looks as if it would pay the farmers of the valley to buy out the town of Sigurd and abandon the place rather than to abandon the source of their irrigaof Sigurd and abandon the place rather than to abandon the source of their irrigation water. It is also being pointed out that the town of Sigurd was located in the wrong place from the beginning. The place has been noted for its swampy location.
